

Returning to South Australia by public demand

Dynamic Charismatic Entertainer Scott Dann

When you combine one of New Zealand's top Maori Entertainers with a very talented Australian Artist who was raised in the centre of Australia, the result has to be nothing short of Spectacular and with their differing outlook on life, it will be very humorous.

Wayne Nuku and Scott Dann have been dazzling audiences with their great showmanship, since they first combined on the Gold Coast several months ago, to present a variety show with a difference. Both of these boys have world class voices that appeal to all ages and a wide variety of audiences at their varying venues.

Wayne Nuku is a traditional Maori Singer, having been raised in a family of singers and then going on to achieve the title "Mr Entertainer". His great vocal range enables him to encompass songs from artists such as Elvis Presley, Tom Jones, Englebert, Niel Diamond and the Platters. Wayne's unique style of presentation and sense of humour results in a very professional show.

Scott Dann was raised in the outback of Central Australia. His mother was a singer and encouraged Scott who formed a local band. He later moved to South Australia where, after being crowned "Entertainer of the Year", he was discovered by an agent and the journey began. Scott moved to the eastern states and started a long and rewarding career in show business around Australia and overseas. He even had his own show in Las Vegas at one stage. His many quality recordings attract a lot of airplay.

Dubbed "The Man with the Million Dollar Voice", Scott enthralled audiences everywhere he travels. He and Wayne Nuku have very similar styles and song rosters, so it was only natural that they combine and add unique harmony and humor to the show. Scott ofcourse adds the very Australian touch with a wide range of Australian and Country songs that compliment the Maori offering of Wayne.

Scott during his career teamed up with his nephew Troy Dann and made regular singing appearances on the Australian and International hit series "Outback Adventures". Scott's Daughter, Samantha Dann was also a regular on the show, and as a result they became household names throughout Australia and overseas.

Don't miss this Dynamic Variety Show when it comes to a venue near you. The New Zealanders and Australians are great rivals on the sports field but when they combine to present the best of both countries the result is sure to be nothing short of Spectacular!!

New Zealand's Top Showman "Mr Entertainer" Wayne Nuku

